Getting to know us...

SHARON ANDREWS

Owner/Director. Sharon received her BFA in dance from Southern Methodist University in 1979. As a dance major at SMU, she not only had extensive studies in ballet, pointe, jazz, modern and tap, but also in dance history, ballet pedagogy (the study of teaching ballet), dance theory, and choreography. She has trained and danced with many of the finest teachers in the world. Sharon's heart is to "redeem the arts" for God's glory, taking back what the world has perverted and returning the arts to a meaningful, excellent and powerful form of expression for the purpose of worship and evangelism.

WHAT PARENTS ARE SAYING ABOUT LOFD...

I commend you for the work you have done with our children. The recital Sunday afternoon clearly set a new standard of excellence.

Thank you for mentoring our daughter all these years. We all are so grateful for you dedication and leadership as well as your gifted teaching.

Mrs. Addie, is a wonderful teacher. Just two lessons with her and we love her.

You and your staff shared so much with those loud, rambunctious children on so many levels. The look of excitement and confidence on their faces was priceless. They will always remember this experience.

Thank you for the music choices....sooo anointed....a true experience of adoring Him! I just am so excited about the seeds that were planted in these children's lives from your sacrificial giving. What a legacy to give them---of dance and worship!

You have quite a following, and are teaching the younger generation how to revere and glorify God through dance, dress, and everyday life(through the gentleness that you exemplify and how you live your life)

Its great to be part of such a wonderful family.

The way you keep God in you dance studio, and for teaching young children to worship the Lord by dancing.

I have been overwhelmed by compliments for the recital on Sunday. One woman who didn't know anyone but me said she cried through the whole thing and was greatly ministered to.
